The Palm Lake Story

The Palm Lake story is one that dates back 44 years to a caravan park near Dandenong. Palm Lake Group founder, Walter Elliott purchased Willow Lodge Caravan Park in Bangholme, Victoria, inspired by the manufactured home estate model he had seen in operation in the United States and started converting it into a residential resort for permanent residents. Before long, the group shifted its operations base to Queensland and developed a resort at Bethania on Brisbane's southside.

The resort sold out quickly and became a model for this type of development. Since that time, Walter's son Scott joined the family business as Managing Director and the Palm Lake Group has grown to feature 38 locations across Queensland, New South Wales and Victoria. And the company is still expanding. Among the locations, there are also a number of sister Palm Lake Communities offering aged care to residents with care requirements.

The Palm Lake Group has seen much success over four decades and puts that success down to working hard to understand the designer lifestyle residents are seeking within the company's group of resorts. Just ask the thousands of happy Palm Lake Resort residents who enjoy freedom, security, individuality and a sense of community and purpose every day. Walter and Scott still lead this vibrant and ever-expanding family company from its Gold Coast headquarters.

Here aged care fees are explained

When you are considering Residential Aged Care, it's important to understand what you might need to cover financially in terms of your accommodation, care and daily living fees.

Quality care at Palm Lake Care is affordable to everyone as the Australian Government calculates and regulates maximum fees and limits on how much you can be asked to pay. Your contribution towards the cost of your care, accommodation and services is subject to your individual financial circumstances. The Palm Lake team can explain this in detail and provide different options dependent on your individual circumstances.

When considering residential aged care, it's important to understand the funding options available so you can make the choice that's right for you or your family member.

1. Low Means Fully Supported (Govt funded) The government may pay for your accommodation and care costs, so you'll only need to pay the basic daily fee.

2. Low means partly supported (Govt contribution)

If you are only eligible for partial funding, the government will contribute to your accommodation costs and you'll also need to pay the basic daily fee.

3. Self-funded If you don't qualify for government funding, you'll need to pay the accommodation and basic daily care fee, and a means tested fee.

Your eligibility for funded care
To find out if you're eligible for residential aged care funding from the Australian Government, you'll need an Aged Care Assessment Team (ACAT) assessment.

The ACAT is a completely independent (and free) service. Visit My Aged Care or call 1800 200 422 to get started.

If you are looking for a permanent home, you'll also need to complete a financial assessment with Services Australia to determine how much you may need to contribute towards your accommodation.

Basic Daily Fee

Everyone pays a basic daily fee. This fee helps pay for your day-to-day services such as meals, cleaning, facilities management and laundry.

Means Tested Care Fee

Means tested care fee is an extra contribution that some people pay, as determined through a means assessment. It is an ongoing fee towards the cost of your personal and clinical care.

Community and Enhanced Environment Fee

Palm Lake Care Beachmere offers a luxurious living experience with amenities like private suites, diverse meal options, sports bar, beauty salons, and more, all aimed at enhancing residents' physical, social, and emotional well-being.
